RSD is a traditional brick and mortar wholesale business whose legacy of success has been built on a history of customer service, product knowledge and repeatable transactional excellence. When we developed AWC we did not fully realize the potential for improvement, nor the next level of performance that was available through this web based service. Our goal is to facilitate and speed up the purchasing experience as a means of helping our customers maximize their technicians time and efficiency. It is our desire to offer an unequalled level of service and value to our customer base.
